
First International Symposium on Chili Anthracnose

September 17-19, 2007, Seoul National University, Korea

SECOND ANNOUNCEMENT

June 29, 2007

Fellow Scientist,

You are receiving this e-mail because we think you may have an interest in the 'First International Symposium on Chili Anthracnose' to be held in Seoul, Korea September 17-19, 2007. This link, <http://www.avrdc.org/anthracnose/index.html>, will take you to our website. If you have the website bookmarked, be sure to refresh it each time to get all the updates.

We have received many responses from international scientists as well as Korean scientists after the first announcement on March 6, 2007. We are sending the second announcement to let you know the website has been updated and to alert you to some of the changes. Please visit our website which is updated periodically for the most current information.

Key information updated after the first announcement follows:

New Dates on the Calendar

- July 31: deadline for abstract submission
- August 15: third announcement with preliminary program
- August 25: deadline for early registration at reduced rate

Registration

The registration fee has been set at 150 US dollars for early registration and 180 US dollars for those registering after August 25, and 200 US dollars for those registering on-site. The fee covers all technical expenses, daily lunch, symposium banquet, field trips and one hard copy of the proceedings to be published after the meeting. Registration details can be found on the website.

Abstract submission reminder

Abstracts are to be submitted by July 31, 2007 via electronic mail to Dae-Geun Oh: anthracnose@k-biz.net. Abstracts received from registered participants by July 31 will be included in a bound book of abstracts to be distributed at the meeting. Abstract format and details can be found on the website.

We are expecting a good turnout and a lively exchange of information on the current status of anthracnose in several countries and ongoing research to address the problem. We hope you will be able to participate. A third announcement to be released August 15 will provide additional information and an updated program.

Sincerely,
